ARTS COUNCIL

As a Creative ARTS Holistic Life Coach, C Imani Williams utilizes the art of jewelry design with natural beads and stones as a form of trauma release with aspiring jewelry designers. It's all about the healing energy for her. The movements are rhythmic and repetitive, creating a cadence that may help with anxiety while providing a sense of calm. She has taught art to high school students in Detroit, MI, along with community-based workshops for survivors of sexual assault (youth and adults), women's groups, and agencies serving at-risk youth. Williams is committed to helping others reclaim their voice through holistic creative arts.

Williams is also the self-published author of Rootwork: Triumph Over Trauma. She offers Creative Writing and Performance-based author talks to community-based organizations and schools. She believes the creative writing process is useful to anyone working on better self-care. Williams holds graduate degrees in Counseling and Creative Non-Fiction Writing. She believes in the process as she has lived it, taught it, and helped others on the healing journey.
